Trophies Awarded in Only Two Classes-The Surprise, Henen, and Dad Sail to Get an Official Record-After Calms and Catspaws. Win or Lose and Ondawa Are the Winners The spring regatts for special classes, held un der the auspices of the New Rochelle Yacht Club, ended shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon in a scupper breeze, although during the time of the race itself the wind played all sorts of pranks with the yachts, as they at times drifted about, sometimes stern first. During the merning there was a touch of winter in the atmosphere, but the sky was clear, and there was wind enough to send the graceful yachts through the water in a manner that would set the nerves a-tingle.

The course, which was published in THE SUN restorday morning, was from the stake boat anchored off the entrance of Echo Bay to Hen and Chickens, and then to Middle Grounds buoy at the eastern end of Execution Reef. The course was originally scheduled to be sailed over three times, but owing to the fluky wind the Regatta Committee, consisting of C. P. Tower, Paul A. Meyrowitz, J. R. Thomas, J. C. Lippincott, and A. P. Weston, decided to stop the boats at the end of the second round.

When the preparatory signal was sounded, at 2:29 o'clock, the wind was blowing gently from west-northwest and the tide the beginning of the flood. Five minutes later came the signal for the first division, consisting of the 34-rates Surprise, the 20-footer Keneu, and the new half-rater Dad. All sailed alone in their respect ive classes and went over the course only to get a record, being officially timed by the Regatta Committee. Scarcely had the smoke of the starting gun cleared away when the Keneu crossed the imaginary line close to the stake boat, with Dad a length astern, both having the wind on the port quarter. As they went over the mark the wind died away completely, and the big Surprise, which was hardly twenty feet behind the other two when the run was fired, was fully a quarter of a mile astern of the fast drifting Keneu when she finally crawled over the line.

The white ball was sent aloft at 2:39 o'clock as a starting signal for the cats, and they went over as follows, all being handicapped from the gun:

Ondawa, 2:41:52; Win or Lose, Edwina, Melita, and Mary S., together, 2:44:18; Joaquil, 2:44:31; Grase, 2:46:30; Argo, 2:51:05; Addie: 2:57:45.

The Ondawa caught a catspaw just as she reached the line and forged ahead slowly, while the remainder of the fleet liny becalmed on the wrong side of the mark. Ondawa was fully 300 yards ahead of the fleet when the Win or Lose drifted over the line. Before all the boats got away the wind came in gentle puffs from westsouthwest, and the sailors at once gybed their booms well out on the starboard side, in order to catch every part of the breeze. The Keneu proved a fast drifter, and, gybed around the first mark at 3:25 o'clock, well in advance of the remainder of the boats. The others were timed as follows:

Dad. 3:29:00; Surprise, 3:80:00; Win or Lose,

Dad, 3:20:00; Surprise, 3:80:00; Win or Lose, 8:31:10; Ondawa, 3:31:80; Arzo, 8:81:40; Jonquil, 8:32:20; Edwina, 3:32:23; Mary S., 3:32,45; Melita, 8:38:00; Grace, 3:33:00; Addie, 3:35:40. 8:38:20; Edwina 3:38:29; Mary S., 3:38,45; Melita, 8:38:40; Grace, 3:35:00; Addie, 3:35:45.

Win or Lose, 4:28:25; Surprise, 4:28:40; Mary S., 4:39:15; Keneu, 4:31:00; Dad, 4:34:00; Ondawa, 4:35:03.

The first leg of the second round was a broad reach on the starboard tack, with the wind about two points abat the beam, and the four leaders luffed around Hen and Chickens as follows:

Surprise, 4:80:00; Win or Lose, 4:41:05; Keneu, 4:42:10; Ondawa, 4:47:00. Soon after the leaders luffed around this mark the wind died away to the faintest suggestion of a summer zephyr, and the surface of the Sound became as smooth as a mill pond. As the wind softened, however, the Keneu crept up, but only to drop astern again as soon as the breeze, which had been working along the Long Island shore, struck the centre of the Sound. The boats finished as follows:

Surprise, Keneu, Dad, Mary S., Win or Lose, Onda-wa. Edwina, Argo, and Melita. The others did not

The club went into commission at 2 o'clock, and the yachts in the harbor were dressed in gay bunting. Rear Commodore Standing's cutter was swinging at anchor flying the Union Jack at her taffrall, but there were in addition to the arc of vari-hued bunting, two large American flags at her spreaders. At 6 o'clock dinner was served to about 200 yachtsmen, accompanied by their wives and sweethcarts, and music and dancing closed the day's festivities. Leaves Her Anchorage Off Larchmont for a Long Crutec Abrond.

The schooner-yacht Yampa, flying the private signal of R. S. Palmer and the burgee of the Larchmont Yacht Club, broke out her anchor at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, and, spreading sail, stoered for the eastward for a long cruise in European waters. On board the yacht as she swung out of Larchmont harbor were George Cormack, C. C. Monroe, C. C. McGroe, Seymour S. Husted, G. M. Burretto, George L. Seeley, and Dr. E. L. H. McGinniss. The latter three will cruise as far as New London in the yacht, and bid a final farewell from that place. The big schooler was saluted from the lawn in front of the ciuthouse, and quite a goodly number of clubmen wished the voyagers godspeed before she set as!

the ciubhouse, and quite a goodly number of clubmen wished the voyagers godspeed before she set sail.

The Yampa is a keel boat, 134 feet over all, 116 feet 9 inches water line, 27 feet beam, and 13 feet 9 inches draught. The litherary of the cruise, as far as has been decided, includes a view of the race for the German Emperor's cup, from Bover to Heligoland; a passage through Kiel Canal and a view of the Kial regatta in the Baltie Sea. The party will afterward visit 8 fockho.mand participate in the Royal Swedish Yacht Club's regatta, which will constitute part of the celebration of the twenty-lith anniversary of King Oscar's reign. Cronstadt will be the next point, after which the yacht will probably sail to liergen and Copenhagen.

R. S. Palmer will cross the ocean in a steamer and meet the yacht at one of the Enclish ports. Theodore Zerega, who will also be one of the party, is already in England and will go on board with the owner.

The lacrosse teams of the Crescent A. C. and the Johns Hopkins University met yesterday for the first time this season at the former's grounds, Bay Ridge. The Crescents won by a score of 5 goals to 2. It was an exciting and interesting game throughout, remarkable for fast playing, sharp fielding, and the skill of the winmers in shooting the goal. The work done by De Cassanova, Garvin, and Carry for the Crescents, and that of Fitzgeraid, Maddrin, and Robinson for the Johns Hopkins deserves special mantion. Carry was the hero of the game, owing to his wonderful shooting and stope.
